Indeed they made all kinds of excuses, some of them saying the democratic leaders should have sent for them. Now they and their friends also claim that had they been present, and had the Lehlbach amendment been adopted, it would have done no good, for the republicans had sufficient majority on Wednesday, at the final vote, to have stricken out the amendment and passed the bill in its original shape, as they did pass it.

Be this as it may, however, the democratic leaders, one and all, are indignant, and many of them have expressed themselves in very strong language.

Mr. Hemphill, of South Carolina, who had charge of the bill on the democratic side, being the first democrat on the committee from which it was reported, says:
"The absence of these men was simply an outrage upon the democratic party."

All the other democratic leaders express themselves likewise.

"Representative Stewart is having a hard fight in the Atlanta district. Colonel Livingston, the alliance leader, is pushing him hard. Since ex-Mayor William H. Hulsey, of Atlanta, entered the field, he will get the solid vote of Fulton county, which, with one other county certain for him, will give him ten votes out of twenty-eight. If he can't be nominated his strength will probably be thrown to Stewart, as more probable to retire at the end of one term than Livingston. Clements is also being given a hard fight by R. W. Everett. Major Barnes is going to be beaten by Thomas E. Watson, a smart young lawyer. Georgia will send a solid Cleveland delegation to the next national convention. He is stronger than ever. Governor Campbell, of Ohio, will be our choice for second place."

MR. CARLTON'S SPRECH. Mr. Carlton made a speech against the force bill on Tuesday night, which has attracted much attention and favorable comment from the democrats.

much attention and favorable comment from the democrats.

Mr. Carlton said:

Owing to the difficulty members find in being heard upon this, the gravest proposition of legislation everbefore offered in the American congress, I am constrained to say that its enormity is only exceeded by the dertermination of its partisan promoters to force it through this, the popular tranch of congress, without due discussion and deliberation. Just to think of a measure which utterly overthrows the rights of the free American people, given them by the constitution, and which they have enjoyed from the very foundation of the government, being rushed through this house in four or five days, and that, too, under a rule which gives all advantage to the partisan promoters of the iniquity. It is inconsistent with all fair, honest and legitimate legislation. It will not be justified or excused by the American people. It is sumply monstrous.

As I contemplate these facts, methinks I hear a sound in the distance, like the mighty rush of waters. Hark: This the voice of an outraged and angry people, coming up from all parts of the American union, crying down with the centralists, out with the monarchical descerators of the temples of American liberty, away with the usurpers of the rights of free men—and as the voice of the people gather into one mighty sound methinks I hear one united exclamation "Oh, for a 'lodge' in some vast wilderness."

Mr. Carlton then attacked the constitutionality of the bill, showing conclusively that it was never the intention of the framers of the constitution, for congress to exercise the reserved or alternative power given in the constitution by way of interfering with the election laws of the states, except in cases where the states failed or refused to provide for the election of members of congress, insisting that no such condition of affairs existed in any one of the states; then there was no necessity for any such law, and that congress could not constitutionally pass any such bill. The bill was purely pa

He said the gentleman had opened the argument on this bill with the broad denial that there was anything of a sectional character or intent in its provisions. The gentleman had not gone far however, in his argument before he so uncovered himself as to show that this was only a pretext—an intended blind, which produced more of amusement than conviction as he proceeded to unburden his troubled soul, by recapitulating his off-repeated slanders and abuse of the south.

Mr. Carlton said the gentleman, as well as his party, seemed to be much distressed about a "race problem" in the south which he seemed to think tould only be solved by the passage of the Lodge bill. I can inform the distinguished gentleman from Massachusetts, that there is no "race problem" in the south. There is, however, in the south a political problem, which neither the gentleman nor his party seems to understand, and which will never be settled to his satisfaction, or that of his party, nor in conformity to the calculations and purposes of the Lodge bill. Mr. Carlton than referred to the history of slavery in the south. Said that it was introduced there by the negro traders of New York, Connecticut and Massachusetts, and when the people of these and other states of New England found that their negroes could not be used profitably as inhorers in the north, they sold them to the south. THE LODGE BILL.

Some Senators Who Are Expected to Op pose It.

RICHMOND, Va., July 4 .- [Special.] -- Some of the RIGIMOND, Va., July 4.—[Special.]—Some of the best informed democratic leaders in Virginia are counting upon the opposition to the Lodge election bill of such republican senators as Plumb, of Kansas; Cameron, of Pennsylvania, and Sherman, of Ohio. The assumption that these gentlemen will earnestly antagonize this important partisan measure, in which the people of the south are so much interested, is based wholly upon business principles. They are interested with Wabons and principles. They are interested with Mahone and others in immense tracts of mineral lands in Pat-rick and various other mountain counties of this state; not counting extensive interests these gentlemen have in other southern enterprises. Through Mahone they have recently made large purchases of valuable coal, iron and mineral lands in southwestern Virginia, in the development of which considerable capital will have to be expended. It is believed that if actuated by no higher or patriotic motives, the senators will not do anything to affect the vital interests of a portion of the country in which they have risked so much of their treasures. This is a view some of the ablest democratic orators of Virginia take of this matter. In opposition to it, so far as Mahone is concerned, it may be stated that his two congressmen from this state, Bowden and Waddill, both supported the Lodge bill. state; not counting extensive interests these gen-

WASHINGTON, July 4.—The slumbering little city of Alexandria, Va., had a doubte tragedy this evening, which came near ending in a riot as the close of her Fourth of July eelebration. Police Officer Ticer had arrested a man, when his prisoner was rescued from him by Fred Lee, a negro oner was rescued from him by Fred Lee, a negro-politician. Lee knockes the officer down, but Police Officer McCuen coming to his rescue, Lee was arrested. A crowd of negroes gathered around, and when the crowd became threatening, Ticer fired two shots, almost instantly killing Lee and mortally wounding another negro, named George Tine. The mob dispersed, but quickly reassembled around a saloon to which the officers had gone, and three of the negroes were haranguing the others to take revenge, when a squad of policemen captured the speakers and broke up the

He entered the water about seventy-five feet up the stream from the cantilever bridge, and was taken out of an eddy above the Whirlpool Rapids inclined railway with a deep cut in the left knee, and another in hls left foot. His escape from death was entirely accidental. His own skill and strength had little to do with it, and when taken out of the water he was so crippled as to be perfectly helpless. He was out of sight a good part of his trip, and was several times supposed to have been dashed to death against the rocks. He asserts his intention to try again when his injuries heal.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 4.—Captain James Godman, of Chicago, master and owner of the steamer D. J. Foley, arrived here on Wednesday night from Lake Ontario. He reports that the Foley took fire in her boiler house at 1:45 o'clock Wednesday morning. She was towing the American Union, both coal laden, from Charlotte-for Chicago. Despite a rain squall that prevailed and the efforts of the crew, the flames spread so rapidly that the men had to take to the small boat. The Foley burned down to the water's edge, then filled and sank in a depth of 40 feet, fifteen miles above Charlotte and eight miles from the shore. Captain Godman safely landed the crew on the beach.

Dedication of the Academy.

Lyncheurg, Va., July A.—The new Randolph Macon academy building was dedicated here to-day. The town was thronged with visitors who were handsomely entertained by the citizens and representatives of nearly all the colleges of Virginia and surrounding states, and many distinguished ministers were present. An address of welcome was delivered by W. W. Berry, and a dedication address by Dr. Moses D. Hoge, of Richmond. Other speeches, music, a banquet and a pyrotechnic display completed the programme. The building is a magnificent four story structure, erected in the most modern style at a cost of about $80,000. Dedication of the Academy

THE GRAND PARADE IN CHATTA-NOOGA YESTERDAY.

THE ILLUMINATIONS LAST NIGHT.

The Boys in Gray Out in Large Numbers-Governor Gordon Speaks to Them— The Picnic at Chickamauga.

CHATTANOOGA, July 4.—The Fourth of July exercises of the reunion of the confederate veterans took the form of a monster parade this morning.

Ten thousand veterans were in line, together with three regiments of Tennessee State Guards encamped near the city and several military companies from other southern cities. General John B. Gordon was commander-in-chief of the procession, and as he rode along the line in review he was greeted with a con tinuous round of cheers.

General E. Kirby Smith, attired in a suit of confederate gray, commanded the military divisions, and he was vociferously cheered along the streets.

Fifty thousand people witnessed the parade. In all the line not a single confederate flag was displayed, but every command carried national colors. Brass bands passed up the streets playing national airs and "Dixie," "Bonnie Blue Flag," and the war tunes on both sides, and cheers greeted every air. The best of good humor prevailed, and not a single incident occurred to mar the pleasure of the occasion.

THE SONS OF VETERANS. A feature of the parade was several hundred young men, sons of confederate veterans, who passed along singing national airs. Along the line of parade in the business portion of the city there was not a single house that was not profusely decorated.

Governor Taylor, of Tennessee, and staff headed the Tennessee militia. After the parade and review, General Gordon addressed several thousand people in front of the union depot. His sentiments were so patriotic and eloquent that the wildest enthusiasm pre

[Great cheering.]

I knew what your response would be, and I undertake to say for you, and the future will forever prove the correctness of the prophecy, that whenever the honor, integrity, progress and the power of this republic are at stake, these men and their children will be found on the side of that republic. [Great applause.] And if today I desired to transmit to my posterity an assurance that this land would remain great and prosperous and free, I would say, in God's name, commit its destiny to such men as these. [Great cheering.]

are making the night brilliant. Lookout mountain and Missionary ridge are ablaze with bright lights, and on the Tennessee river and Cameron hill there are monster pyrotechnic displays. It is estimated that there were 35,000 visitors in the city today.

THEY ARE GROWING OLD. The parade of the confederate veterans clearly indicated that it has been a long tir since the close of the war. The men are all gray haired and nearly all infirm. Their appearance showed that they had seen active service and much of it, many of them appear service and much of it, many of them appearing in their old, tattered gray jackets.

General C. W. Heiskell, of Memphis, was one of the speakers at the tent. He said:

We all rec gnize the fact that the late war was a gallant fight. Both sides were right. We, of the south, fought for the constitution of our fathers. The south was a loyal country. But we were wrong on the slavery question. The north was right, when it fought us on that scere.

There is not a son or daughter of the south today who would have slavery restored. [Applause.] While for four years we were deadly enemies, we are forevermore brothers and fellow citizens, and proud in the south of the glory of these American states, and we would fight as loyally for the flag of our country as any man who fought with Grant and Sherman.

France's Protective Duties.

Panis, July 4.—The senate today passed a bill relative to duties on maize, rice and molaises as approved by the chamber of deputies.

New York, July 4.—Tammany hall was profusely hung today with American flags, and was filled with braves and resonant with patriotic music. Grand Sachem Tappan opened the proceedings by arising with his silk hat on his head, as a token of his rank, bidding welcome to the braves who had assembled to join in the celebration of Independence day. The reading of the declaration of independence was entrusted to George B. McClellan, son of the late General George B. McClellan, william D. Bynnen, of Indiana, was introduced, "whose chief glory is that he received the censure of the republican speaker of the house of representatives." Mr. Bynum said:

The founders of the nation did not believe in a nation with a big "N." They did not believe that the majority had the right to deprive the minority of its natural rights. The danger to our institutions does not he in a revolt from the minority but in the tyranny of the majority. The republican majority has passed a federal election law, the infamous purposes of which cannot be mistaken. Never in the life of the nation has such a deadly thrust at its liberties been made. This law was not intended for the south alone. Not satisfied with unscating honestiy elected members of the house of representatives, they have devised this scheme to enable them to count out democrats before they can attempt to take their seats. With voice, with pen, with word, the people should rise in their might and prevent the enactment of such a law.

Ex-President Cleveland, in his letter of records as a in part.

Ex-President Cleveland, in his letter of regret says, in part:

The celebration contemplated by your organization will fall short in the impressions due to the occasion, if it does not emphasize the idea that the declaration of independence was the protest of honest and sturdy men against the wrongs and oppressions of misgovernment. Our fathers, in est blishing the new government upon the will of the people, and consecrated to their care and just protection, could not prescribe the limitations which would deny to political parties its conduct and administration. The opportunities and temptations thus necessarily presented to partisanship, have brought us to the time when party control is far too arrogant and bitter, and when in public places the true interests of the country are too lightly considered.

In this predicament, those who love their country may well remember with comfort and satisfaction, on independence day, that the disposition of the American people to revolt against madadministration still remains to them, and is a badge of their freedom and independence, as well as their security for continued prosperity and happiness.

They will not prevolt against their plan of gov-badge of their freedom and independence, as well as their security for continued prosperity and happiness.

They will not revolt against their plan of government, for its protection and preservation supply every inspiration of true Americanism. But because they are free and independent American citizens they will, as long as their love and veneration for their government shall last, revolt against the domination of any political party which, entrusted with power, sordidly seeks only its continuance, and which, faithlessly violating its plain and simple duty to the people, insults them with professions of disinterested solicitude while it eats out their substance. Yet with all this we should not, in blind security, deay the existence of danger. The masses of our countrymen are brave and, therefore, generous; they are strong and, therefore, confident; and they are honest and, therefore, unsuspecting. Our peril lies in the ease with which they may be deluded and cajoled by those who would traffic with their interests.

No occasion is more opportune than the celebration of the one hundred and fourteenth anniversary of American independence, to warn the American people of the present necessity on their part of vigilant watchfulness of their rights, and jealous action of honest and unselfish performance of public duty.

Reading of the letter from ex-President Cleveland was followed by loud applause, and three cheers for Cleveland were given with a will. Governor Biggs, of Delaware, referring to the federal election bill, said he believed in letting the colored man have his right but not while man's right too. This is white man's government, and the speaker believed in supporting his own race. William M. At the National Capital.

Wishington, July 4.—The day was very quiet, there being no public gathering or demonstration of any kind. Everybody of prominence in official life left town yesterday to remain until Monday, and a large percentage of the permanent population also spent the day out of the city upon numerous excursions by rail or river, so that until nightfall the place had much the appearance of Sunday. The day was intensely hot.

The display of fireworks, on individual account, was general in every part of the city, there being no fear of police interference, as the commissioners had announced their intention not to prevent the citizens showing their patriotism as they saw proper. There were a number of accidents, but so far as reported anly two of them were of a serious nature. May Agnes Van Alstine, a pretty little five year old girl, was burned to death, her clothing catching fire from lighted matches. Her parents supposed she was up stairs playing with her dolls. Charles Leighter, a fifteen year old boy, living on Capitol Hill, had both eyes blown out by the premature explosion of gunpowder. The event of the Fourth in Washington was the reception and celebration of the Sons of the American Revolution. The reception was at the residence of Professor Cabell, and the speaking and music were in the art gallery. There was a large attendance of members, applicants for membership, and their families. Senator John Sherman presided, and, after brief and eloquent remarks, introduced other speakers. Professor Goode, of the Smithsonian institute, the registrar of the society, set forth the patriotic objects, exciting great interest, Representatives Hemphill, of South Carolina; Butterworth, of Ottic; Wheeler, of Alabama, and Grosvenor, of Ohio, and General Breckinridge were also received with unbounded favor. Senator Sherman closed the exercises with telling remarks. The spaciou

A GRRAT TIME IN PORTLAND.

PORTLAND, Me., July 4.—The Fourth of July celebration given by the city of Portland in honor of the Army of the Potomac was a great success in every particular. During the afternoon there were occasional drizzling showers, but they were not heavy enough to drive the people in doors. Tonight the weather was favorable for areworks.

The celebration opened early in the morning with the usual din of guns and ringing of bells. The parade consisted of 500 men from naval vessels stationed in the harbor. Next came all the militia companies in the state, Grand Army posts, Sons of Veterans and Knights of the Golden Eagle. The parade was reviewed by distinguished guests and veterans of the Army of the Potomac from the grand stand in Lincoln park.

After the parade the prominent generals embarked on a steamer for Little Chebeague, where a clambake was served to 800 people, members of the Army of the Potomac and citizens of Portland. PIKE'S PEAK ILLUMINATED.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Col., July 4.—One of the most novel exhibitions ever devised for the celebration of the fourth of July, was put in exhibition this evening. The originator of the idea is George W. Altemus, of Camden, N. J. Two barrels of kerosene and one of red fire was taken up to the summit of Pike's Peak, with a great effort, yesterday, together with a large supply of rockets and other fireworks.

Tonight at 8:30 a bonfire was built of oil and powder, and the peak is brilliantly illuminated. The mountain has all the appearance of an enormous volcano vomiting forth an immense column of fire, and rockets, shooting in all directions, add to the effect. The illuminations can be seen for 100 miles in all directions.

GREENVILLE, S. C., July 4.—[Special.]—The glorious 4th has passed very quietly and pleasantly here today. There was a large crowd of negroes and plenty of watermelons, consequently plenty of happiness for the negro. The feature of the day was the game of baseball at the Sans Souci Driving park between the Mechanics, of Columbia, and the Piedmont club, of Piedmont, S. C., for the championship of the state. The game was beautifully played, with scarcely an error until the seventh liming, when Columbia made two runs and Piedmont one. The score remained so until the close of the game, thus giving the championship to Columbia.

TWO NEGROES FIGHT

AND ONE HURTS THE OTHER FA-TALLY.

BY STRIKING HIM WITH A CHAIRS

Allan Echols Inflicts a Wound Upon Josh Lipscomb Which May Prove Fatal-The Trouble Near Ponce de Leon.

Atlen Echols dangerously, probably fatally, hurt Joseph Lipscomb last night. Both men are negroes, and the blow was struck in the house of Echols, about a mile and a half beyond Ponce de Leon springs.

Echols is employed on the farm of Mr. W. A. Moore, and Lipscomb has been boarding with him for some time past.

Lipscomb is employed in grading on the new road leading through Ponce de Leon.

Yesterday Mrs. Echols was in town all day, celebrating the Fourth. She returned home sometime after dark. Nobody was there when she arrived, together with one or two of her 1emale neighbors.

Her husband had gone off somewhere—she thought to town—and was not expected to be back in a very short time. Soon after Mrs. Echols got off her hat, Lipscomb came in. Then, close on his heels, came Echols, who appeared in the door suddenly, without any Echols says he saw Lipscomb kiss his wife just as he stepped in the door.

"When he saw me," said Echols, "he turned and picked up a pistol that was laying the top of the bursan. I told him to lay it.

out on top of the bureau. I told him to lay it down, and at the same moment grabbed a chair and struck him on the head with it. He fell down on the floor, and then I came away."

About 11 o'clock Echols walked into the station house, of his own accord and gave him-"I have killed a man for kissing my wife,"

he explained to Dr. Foute, "and I want to give myself up like I was told to do."

Echols is a hugely built man, of wonderful strength. A blow by his hand must have been a terrific one. When he came into the station eouse he was greatly excited, was without his coat or hat, and it was a good while after he was put in a cell before he calmed down enough to tell his story.

A message was sent to the city for Drs. Westmoreland and Howell, and they went out to see the wounded man. When Echols left Lipscomb lying on the door, he was lifeless. A great gash was cut across his head, and the escaping blood had formed a large pool where he fell. He lay there for some time without signs of life, but before the physicians reached him, he had recovered consciousness and was able to talk a little.

To a Constitution reporter he said that the trouble grew out of a 75c board bill which was the Echols.

"Echols," he said, "came in and demanded the 75c, I told him I would pay him, and then picked up my pistol which was lying on the bureau to put it in my pocket. Echols told me to put the pistol down. I started to do so, and then he hit me with the chair."

Lipscomb is pretty seriously hurt. He may die from his wound, but the physicians have good hopes of his pulling through all right. The affair created great excitement in the neighborhood.

The affair created great excitement in the neighborhood.

Early this morning Lipscomb was brought to Dr. Dan Howell's office in the city. He was very much lower than he had been during the night, and Dr. Howell said that the chances of his recovery are extremely doubtful. The blow from the chair caused concussion of the brain, and his death is likely to occurat any moment.

A ROW AT THE GLASS WORKS. The Glass Blowers and the Metropolitar Dummy Men Have Trouble

An ugly feud has sprung up between the glast blowers and the employes of the Metropolitan dummy line and the other railroad men out there.

Trouble between the glassmen and the railroad-men has been brewing for some time. Numerous small fights between the two factions have resulted from it, and threats of a general sweeping from the face of the earth by one party or the other have many times been made.

There is a beer saloon on half way ground between the glass works and the raft-road sheds. A number tof quarrels have taken place there between glass blowers and railroaders, the more freely the flow-ing of the beer the more frequent and general the disputes and fights. It is always glassman against railroadman and vice versa. Invariably the men take sides, and the feeling between the two sets or classes has been so wrought up that a row can be raised almost at any time by the easting of a handkerchief.

almost at any time by the casting of a handkerchief.

Last night there was an outbreak that at one time bid fair to develop into a regular pitched battle. A riot was narrowly escaped.

A crowd of glass blowers and railroadmen gathered in the half way saloon last night. In the course of a row which grew to such proportions that a squad of police was telegraphed for, John Allen, an East Tennessee hand was pretty badly gashed on the head with a slung shot, his fellow railroaders say.

Allen as well as the others had been drinking freely, and the fight started from the same cause that began other fights—an intensely bitter feeling between the two sets of men.

The place where the fight occurred is outside of the city limits, and no policemen were sent in response to the call.!

After Allen was hurt he was carried away by his friends, whose intention it was to get reinforcements and cerum to the fray. But in the mean-

Columbia, S. C., July 4.—[Special.]—A remarkable freak of lightning was recorded near Martin's Point, in Berkely county, yesterday. A negro woman was sitting in her house with a two year old child in her lap. Her husband was standing on the opposite side of the room. A thunder storm was in progress, and a stroke of lightning descended upon the house. The child in its mother's arms was instantly killed. child in its mother's arms was instantly killed, its father severely, perhaps, fatally shocked, and the mother was not injured, or even shocked ed by the stroke. ## WILL NOT RESIGN THE LEADER-

SHIP

Of the Agricultural Society, But Will Con-tinue to Hold His Office Until the Expiration of His Ferm. Macon, Ga., July 4.—[Special.]—Your correspondent was informed that a letter had been received in Macon from President W. J.

rthen, stating that he would resign the presidency at the meeting of the society held in August at LaGrange.

This information was furnished The Con-STITUTION, and published yesterday.

COLONEL NORTHEN SPEAKS. In a letter received by your correspondent onight, from President Northen, regarding bis reported resignation he says:

Let me say this is a mistake. My term of office expires at the meeting in February next. The election of officers will take place at the number session to be held in August at LaGrange. If, in the state democratic convention, to be held August 7th, I should be nominated for the office of governor of the state, I would not then be a cangovernor of the state, I would not then be a didate for re-election as president of the State Agricultural society. It is now my purpose, how-ever, to hold the position until my term expires in Baker County Acts.

NEWTON, Ga., July 4.—[Special.]—The democracy of Baker county, under a call of the executive committee, assembled at the court house in Newton on Tuesday, July 1st, and after organizing by calling Judge John O. Perry to the chair, and bleeting the Hon. B. F. Hudspeth to act as secre-tary, the Hon. I. H. Hand offered a resolution tary, the Hon. I. H. Hand offered a resolution referring the gubernatorial and congressional delagates to the people of the county, in a primary to be held July 19, 1899, which resolution was unanimously adopted.

A committee of nine was appointed by the chair, apon motion, to select delegates to the gubernatorial, codgressional and senstorial conventions. The delegates to the first two to be subject to the action of the primaries to be held on the 19th of July. While the committee was out, the Hon. A. Hawes of Decarro county, was called mon for July. While the committee was out, the rion A.
L. Hawes, of Decatur county, was called upon for a talk in reference to the questions most especially interesting to the farmers. Mr. Hawes, in a clear, Torcible and eloquent manner, depicted the evils and wees endured by the farmers of the south for the last twenty-five years, charging the same to national legislation in favor of trusts, monopolies and of more powers against agriculture. ney powers against agriculture.

The Contest in Warren. WARRENTON, Ga., July 4.—[Special.]—The War-ren County alliance held its annual meeting ren County alliance held its annual meeting here on yesterday for the purpose of electing new officers. The meeting was largely attended. The town was crowded with farmers from all over the county, and the candidates for the different offices were hard at work. Judge I. H. Hall has announced himself as a candidate for the legislature, and he will be our next representative. There are seven candidates for the office of receiver and two for sheriff, and they made things lively yesterday. The friends of Major Barnes and Hon. T. E. Watson were at work, and each side is claiming the county. A gentleman remarked to your correspondent yesterday, that Major Barnes was rapidly gaining ground, and he was confident that he would carry the county. It is, however, hard to tell how the county will go. Hon. J. B. Hunnicutt, candidate for commissioner of agriculture, will speak to the people of this county on July 14th.

The Alliancemen of Terrell. DAWSON, Ga., July 4.—[Special.]—Yesterday was a "red letter day" in the calendar of the Terrell County Farmers alliance. The members of the order and their friends had a huge barbecue at Cross Roads, five miles from Dawson, and the crowd present was fully two thousand or more. The supply of barbecued meats and other good things to eat were very bountiful and everybody had enough and to share. The crowd was exceedhad enough and to share. The crowd was exceedingly orderly and the very best of good humor prevailed all day. Judge James H. Guerry was called on for a speech, and in his own inimitable style delighted the vast concourse of people and made, in fact, a capital speech. Mr. A. C. Hill, the alliance candidate for senator, and Mr. William Jennings, candidate for representative, each made short speeches, which were well received. The Dawson brass band discoursed sweet music during the day. The occasion was altogether a most enjoyable one.

Pike's Race for Congress.

HARMONY GROVE, Ga., July 4.—[Special.]—Hon. W. J. Pike, of Jefferson, is making a thorough canvass of Jackson and Banks counties now in his own interest. In Jackson county he will certainly capture the delegation unless the alliance decides to endorse Hon, H. W. Bell. In this event decides to endorse Hon. H. W. Bell. In this event it is conceded that the Jackson county delegation will go to the nominating convention instructed to vote for H. W Bell for congress. In Banks county we are reliably informed that the congressional race is "mightily mixed," and there is no telling whether Pike, Tate or Brown will get the Banks delegation. Apropos, Colonel Pike has had his long har, which has been his pride and boast for a number of years, cut off. His friends-facetionsly say it is a second case of Saumson shore. tiously say it is a second case of Sampson shorn of his locks and losing his strength in conse-quence thereof.

The Plan Adopted in Dawson County. DAWSONVILLE, Ga., July 4.—[[Special.]—In shedience to the previous call of Chairman Bishop, the democratic executive committee this day me in the court house and organized by calling Colo-nel Bishop to the chair, and electing M. M. Gentry, secretary.

After considerable debate it was decided to call After considerable debate it was decided to call a mass meeting of democrats to meet here on Tuesday, August 5th—court week—for the purpose of electing delegates to the congressional convention in Gainesville, Ga., and also to the state convention to nominate governor and state house officers. It was also unanimously determined at the same time to nominate candidates for representative of Dawson county and for senator from the thirty-second senatorial district—it being Dawson's time to name the senator.

The Canvass in Thomas.

THOMASVILLE, Ga., July 4.—[Special.]—The county in the past has always conceded to the city the right to name one of the represe city the right to name one of the representatives to the lower house of representatives, and the business men and citizens of Thomasyille have proposed the name of Hon. S. G. McLendon. He is their choice and they ask the democratic voters of Thomas county to confirm their selection by veting for him at the ensuing primary election. Mr. McLendon has done good service for his county in the general assembly, is a thorough gentleman and a staugch democrat. He will very likely be elected.

Douglasville, Ga., July 4.—[Special.]—A. J. Snelson, the candidate for senatorial honors, was in Douglasville yesterday, and attended the alliance meeting at Providence church, eleven miles from here. Your correspondent met Mr. Snelson and upon asking him how he stood in Douglas county, he smilingly said: "I find every one for Snelson, and am taking no stand in the congressional race. It suits me as well to have Livingston and Snelson as Stewart and Snelson, just so it's Snelson for senator. This seems to be the farmers year for offices, and the lawyers and merchants may have to stay at home."

Grimes Will Carry Harris.

Grimes Will Carry Harris.

HAMILTON, Ga., July 4.— (Special.)—The democratic executive committee met last Tuesday, and set the day for the primary election of county officers. The 39th day of August is the day. The political pot is boiling nicely in this county. There are several candidates for the legislature, and several for sheriff. The other officers have no opposition as yet. It is generally thought that Thomas W. Grimes will carry this county, not by as large a majority as he has before. Commissioner Henderson will carry this county very sicely.

Candidates Announced in Hart. HARTWELL, Ga., July 4.—[Special.]—The annual meeting of the Hart county alliance convened at Bient, and James F. White re-elected speciallent, and James F. The card referred to follows:
Colonel Livingston, in his speech today in Monroe, said the people of Social Circle that were opposed to him, refused to let him have the academy at Social Circle for the purpose of making a speech last night, until they found that Judge Stewart would be there, and that he had to pay for it, which is not true, and we are satisfied that Colonel Livingston knew it was not true. The facts are these: There are two academies in Social Circle. Some weeks before the speaking at Social Circle last night, the trustees of Oak Grove academy met and passed a resolution not to let any one have said academy for any purpose without paying for it. And the trustees of Social Circle academy met and passed a resolution not to let any one have said academy for any purpose. When Judge Stewart and Colonel Livingston reached Social Circle the friends of each found out the action of these trustees, then they went to work together and raised the money charged by Oak Grove academy—it having the best accommodation—each side paying one-half. The Result of a Collision on the South western.

MACON, Ga., July 4.—[Special.]—A terrible accident happened this morning between 2 and 3 o'clock on the Southwestern railroad, near Camp creek, fifty-seven miles from Macon. Two extra freight trains collided, through the forgetfulness of orders. It is said the train pulled by engine No. 165 was going from Macon, and the train pulled by engine No. 189 was incoming. Fireman Will Witch, of No. 189, was killed, and Engineer Joe Jeffers, of the same engine, was seriously and, it is feared, fatally injured. Both men lived in Macon and had families. Engine No. 189 is a total wreck. The general wreckage is very bad. The passenger trains were delayed over six hours. This is the first accident on the Southwestern branch in a long while.

THOMASVILLE, Ga., July 4.—(Special.)—The charges made against Postmaster Smith, by Inspector Carnes, of the department at Washington, have been set aside, and a new investigation or-dered. Inspector Carnes was ordered here to make an investigation of the business of the office, looking to the increased appropriation for clerical help. He went outside of this, however, to make reports against Smith, among their the fused to employ a negro assistant. The new inspection will begin at an early date.

Death of Mr. Augustus A. Bell. HARMONY GROVE, Ga., July 4 .- [Special.] - The sad intelligence has reached here that Mr. Augustus A. Bell, of Jefferson, Ga., departed this life last evening, from inflammation of the stomach. This will be quite a surprise to his many friends and acquaintances in this and adjoining Mr. Bell was born at Jefferson about forty years ago, and spent the days of his boyhood and youth in this county. He then moved to Athens, where he engaged in the mercantile business, until four years ago. At that time he returned to Jefferson, where he began the sale of drugs. He soon established a large drug business, of which he was the sole manager at the time of his suddan death. Not. only was he a fine business mán, but also a splendid correspondent for the daily press. At the time of his death, and for several years preceding it, he acted as correspondent at Jefferson for The Atlanta Constitution and the Athens Banner. Well do the readers of these two papers remember the bright and sparkling literary gems that emanated from his pen, and sadly will they miss him. Mr. Bell was born at Jefferson about forty years

Cæsar Roberts Killed.

Macon, Ga., July 4.—[Special.]—This morning at 7 o'clock. Casar Roberts, colored, who was engaged at the Central railroad coal shute, in this city, was killed. Just as he stepped upon the track he was struck above the right eye, near the top of the head, by the beam of the rear coach platform of the Atlanta passenger train, which was backing from the depot. Roberts was hurled insensible to the ground. His skull was crushed, and his brains and eyes protruded. He died at noon.

To Build a New Church. Marietta, Ga., July 4.—[Special.]—For some time the members of the Marietta Baptist church have been agitating the subject of building a new church, and as the congregation has outgrown the old building, it now seems the matter is about to materialize, and a handsome new church nearer the center of the city will be built. At their regular conference, held at their church last night, a committee of three was appointed to select a lot, which has already been done, and, if ratified by the church on next Wednesday night, work on the building will shortly commence.

New Engines Received.

MARIETTA, Ga., July 4.—[Special.]—The Marietta and North Georgia railroad received today from the Khode Island Locomotive works, two new nineteen-inch cylinder, eixty-ton engines. These heavy engines will soon be pulling freight from Marietta to Knoxville, Tenn. Superintendent Glover says the road is doing a fine business and will be completed through to Knoxville in about thirty days.

TEACHERS IN SESSION.

THE CLOSE OF COBB COUNTY'S NOB-MAL SCHOOL.

An Interesting Week's Exercises Brought to a Close—The Admirable Work of Professor L. B. Evans.

MARIETTA, Ga., July 4.—[Special.]—This sternoon, at five o'clock, the most interesting normal ever held in a county in this state closed after a week of the most instructive work. Seventy teachers have enrolled with an average attendance, twice a day, of sixty, besides quite a number of citizens who have attended. Superintendent L. B. Evans has conducted the institute with judgment and has thrown life and snap into the work by the subjects selected for discussion, by the subjects selected for discussion, and the promptness with which the work was called. His lectures on reading by the sentence method was practical, while his talks on school punishment and kindred topics were instructive and entertaining. He is a live superintendent. Superintendent Evans has been ably assisted by President J. S. Stewart, of Harwood seminary, in lectures on chemistry, astronomy, physiology and class work in elecu-tion. His lectures were always interesting and instructive and were quite a feature of the in-stitute work. His lecture on "The Chemistry of the Soil and Its Relation to Plant Life" was particularly instructive.

Professor J. C. Harris today gave one of the most practical lectures of the week on "School Programmes and School Tactics." Professor Harris is a fine organizer and disciplinarian. The lectures of Miss Pauline Pearce on the Grube method in numbers were remarkably clear and useful, and stamp her as one of the leading lady teachers. Professors Duncan and Mizelle gave daily lectures on spelling and grammar, which the teachers enjoyed.

Today Superintendent Zettler, of Macon gave two lectures on general school work. Those who know him know that his work is always to the point.

Mr. W. R. Pond is happy over the result of his first institute, and says he will hold one every year, and the teachers urge it upon him. It is hoped that other counties will follow

SOCIETY GOSSIP.

OGLETHORPE, Ga., July 4.—[Special.]—The marriage of Miss Emma Brown, of Fort Valley, to Mr. Will G. Keen, of Oglethorpe, on Wednesday afternoon last was an exceedingly charming affair. The Methodist church was tastily decorated by artistic hands. The elite of that aristocratic town were out in great numbers to witness the ceremonies, which were brilliant, and partici-pated in by eight couples of attendants, two maids of honor and four ushers, and all of them some of southwest Georgia's most elegant and refined people. Immediately following the benediction the bridal party was driven to the passenger depot where it boarded the cars for Ogle thorpe. Arriving at Oglethorpe they were ten dered carriages and driven to the residence of the groom's parents. From 9 to 12:30 p. m. a hundred or more of the groom's life long admirers paid honor to the queenly bride. The reception and wedding feast presented scenes of brilliancy and great happiness. The broad halls and versadas with the delights of the roomy flower garden, fur-nished their share of joys attendant upon the occasion. These young people are universally beloved, and as they start on their bridal tour, they bear with them the best wishes of all their numerous friends.

A most enjoyable lawn festival was given by the Ladies' Aid society of the Fourth Presbyte-rian church Thursday evening. A large crowd attended the entertainment, spending the evening in eating ice cream and many other delectable things, and a neat sum for the church benefit was Roswell, Gp., July 7.—[Special.]—An accidental shooting occurred here, in which Young Straup, son of Jacob Straup, lost his life.

He had taken a single barrel shotgun out in search of squirrels, and not returning at night the family became uneasy, and on searching found him on one side of a fallen tree, while his gun lay on the opposite, side. It was supposed that he was standing on the log picking blackberries, when the gun slipping from his hands caused the trigger to come in contact with some obstruction, when the load took effect in the lower jaw, killing instantly.

These remarks were greeted with great applause, fully showing the admiration of the people of his native town.

When quiet had been restored, Judge Speer proceeded to address the expectant throng for about one and a half hours. The oration was well received and delivered in Judge Speer's best style. The applause was frequent and prolonged.

Speer's OBATION

The speech, in its centirety, is a great document. It is valuable and interesting in its historical information. It is theroughly optimistic, very eloquent and enthusing.

After Judge Speer's speech a great barbecue was served of about fifty carcasses. The entire multitude was abundantly supplied. Dinner over, Mr. Turner, of Monroe, a strong allanceman, made a fine speech. The Macon party returned home at 6:30 o'clock.

A GREAT RECORD.

Just here a few words about the Macon Construction companylman not be out of place. This company was formed three years ago with W. B. Sparks, president; H. L. Jewett, secretary and treasurer; Jeff Lane, general manager. Capital stock, $500,000. The members and capital of the company are entirely from Macon. The par value of a share of stock is $10,000. It is now selling at $31,000. Since its organization, three years ago, it has built and handsomely equipped 285 miles of railway from Macon to Palatka; it is now building the Macon and Birmingham road from Macon to Birmingham, a distance of 230 miles, thirty-eight of which are now in operation, from Macon to Carrolton, and 100 miles graded. This company is practically the Macon and Savannah. Construction company which is building the road from Macon to Savannah. The Macon Construction company has done and is doing much for the prosperity and development of the section of Georgia through which its lines run. Therefore, with so remarkable a record, it has cause to celebrate the Fourth of July in so enthusiastic and becoming a manner.

The connection of the Atlanta and Florida at Culloden with the Macon and Birmingham is also an excellent thing for the former road, as it gives it a through connection for freight and passenger travel to Macon and on to points in Florida, and when the Macon and Atlantic road is completed Atlanta will thus be given another through line to the sea. The Atlanta and Florida, therefore, had just cause to join in a joint celebration at Culloden. How appropriate the day for such an event.

Speer's oration.

Judge Speer commenced his address by referring to the hour when he was borne a babe in his young mother's arms from Culloden, and he now returned for the first time since then. He depicted the causes that lead to the declaration of independence, and paid tribute to that magnificent document, and dwelt in glowing eulogy upon the lines and characters of the authors and signers of the patriotic instrument. Special praise was bestowed on Thomas Jefferson, John Adams, Hancock and other kindred spirits. He followed the government in the most exciting periods of its history, and referred to the late civil war. He made a comparison of the advantages enjoyed by the citizens of the United States over those of any other country on the globe, citing particularly Second race, seven furlongs, Kanesville won, Rover second, Garrison third. Time, 1:34%.
Third race, one mile, Tanner won, Ballston second, Gendarme third. Time, 1:47%.
Fourth race, seven furlongs, Fordham won, Diablo second, Drumstick third. Time, 1:30½.
Fifth race, mile and a quarter, Darling won, Eleve second, Cast Steel third. Time, 1:27.
Sixth race, steeple chase, short course, Pat Oakley won, Killarney second, Tarquin third. Time, 3:50.

by the citizens of the United States over those of any other country on the globe, citing particularly Russia and Germany, the miserable servitude of the followers of the czar, and the compulsory military service under the kaiser. He referred at length to the productive capacity of the United States. The race question, he argued, would settle itself. In the nature of the conditions there can be no such thing for determination as the race question. He held that the wisest settlement of the question was to leave it alone. Hold the negro up to the full measure of his duty as a citizen, accord to him that just share of favor as a member of society which his conduct deserves and the laws accord him, and the problem will, in God's good time, affect its own solution. He refrained from any political reflections, as they would have been inappropriate. The speech, in its entirety, is a great document. It is valuable and interesting in its BURNETT'S WOOD VIOLET

THOMASVILLE, Ga., July 4.—[Special.]—The glorions Fourth was appropriately celebrated here clorions Fourth was appropriately celebrated here today. Bunting, fireworks and flags were displayed on a number of the business houses, and large crowds from the neighboring towns came up to attend the celebration. The Videttes of Valdosta spent the day with us, and a fine military band from Savannah furnished the music and the enthusiasm also, whenever they rendered "Dixie." In the afternoon the Hussars held an exciting fournament, which was attended by several hundred people. The dress parade in which all the inilitary participated, came off immediately after the tournament. The election of sponsor and maids of honor for the new cavalry company, the flusters, comes off tonight. For sale generally in New York City, Chicago, St. Louis, Boston, and all LARGE CITIES AND TOWNS, by dealers in fine perfumery.

The Children's Elephant. As announced in the telegram, published yesterday, from Mr. N. K. McCormick, THE Constitution's agent, the children's elephant for Grant park has been bought. The contract has been signed and the elephant will be in Atlanta in thirty days, probably

The elephant that has been bought is now in the zoological gardens at Hamburg, and will be imported specially for the children of Atlanta It is a trained elephant, and Mr. Conklin, superintendent of the zoological department of Central park, New York, guarantees its gentleness and docility.

by the first of August.

So much for the purchase. Now, the elephant must be named: it must be named by the children of Atlanta and their friends. In order that everything may be perfectly fair and square, we have decided to submit the matter to a vote of the people. A contribution of 5c will entitle each one to a vote. The boy or girl that has a favorite name to be given to the elephant will be entitled to that honor by sending in the largest number of votes at 5c each. The most energetic youngster will name the elephant.

Borrowing Brains.

It is both suggestive and encouraging to learn that Dr. Gilman Thompson, of New York, has succeeded in grafting a section of a cat's brain upon the brain of a dog.

The possibilities opened by this new scientific venture almost defy conjecture. We can not only give dogs the habits of cats and make cats snooze on our porches and bark at visitors, but we can change the nature of men. A bulldog, obstinate fellow, for instance, can be transformed into a sleek, purring man who will never bother anybody when his fur is properly stroked. On the other hand, we can take a milk and water individual and, after tapping his skull, make him strong and resolute

It is a great discovery, and if Dr. Gilman Thompson does not change human nature in a very marked degree, we cannot see the reason why.

The Two Governors From Hancock. From present indications, a citizen of Hancock will be the next governor of Georgia.

The last and, we believe, the only time that this grand old county was so honored was more than seventy years ago, when William Rabun was elevated to this dignity. This distinguished man was a native of Virginia. His father, Matthew Rabun, migrated from that state and settled near where the village of Powelton now stands, in 1784. He was the ancestor of Mrs. W. J. Northen and of many other men and women who occupy prominent places in society. We believe, however, that there is no living descendant bearing his name. His son William was president of the senate in 1817. when Governor Talbot died, and he was chosen to fill the unexpired term. He was afterwards elected governor for a full term, but died before its expiration. He had enjoyed but moderate advantages for education in his youth, but the native vigor of his intellect, combined with a sound, practical common sense, enabled him to sustain himself most admirably in the high positions to which he was elevated. The traits, however, which distinguished him most markedly were his striking integrity and his deep, unaffected piety. He was a member and for many years the clerk of the Baptist church at Powelton and he never forgot either of these facts while taking a prominent part in politics. It is said that he never missed a monthly conference of his church during the years that he was governor, and that he kept the minutes just as carefully and modestly as though he had not been the chief dignitary of the state. His funeral sermon was preached in the Baptist church at Milledgeville by Rev. Jesse Mercer, with whom he had been on terms of the closest intimacy, but his remains were buried at his home. near Powelton, where they still lie in an unmarked grave.

These incidents in the life of this great man are of interest now that we are likely to have for chief magistrate a man from the same county, and by marriage of the same family, who resembles him in more than one particular. With more of culture than was possessed by William Rabun, Mr. Northen possesses a similar practical sense and equal integrity and a like faithfulness to his church obligations.

The Middlesborough Monuments. Elsewhere we print a communication from an ex-confederate, in which forcible objection is made to the project to erect statues of Lee and Grant in the new town of Middlesborough, Kentucky. We have information which leads us t believe that the carrying out of such a project would be disagreeable to the mempers of General Lee's family, and this ought to be a fatal objection, so far as the south is concerned. We have never supposed that the project was other than a purely fanciful one, intended as a sort of free advertisement for the town of Middlesborough, which is a new place on the map, and which illustrates what rusty English capital can do when it is planted in southern soil. We have commented on the matter not unfavorably, but, on reflection, we are con-Apart from the fact that such a mement would be displeasing to the members of General Lee's family, there is nothing about it typical or representative, and it would merely serve as an advertisement of a new

There is nothing in Middlesborough to suggest the propriety of such a memorial, and the memorial itself would be meaningless except in the fancy of those who find an allegory behind every bush.

The Cost of the Force Bill.

The least vicious feature of the federal election bill that has just passed the house is the cost of it, and yet this feature will entail an enormous tax on the people. This cost has been estimated at from ten to fifteen dollars for each election that is held under ts provisions.

The chief supervisors will cost a million and a half, the supervisors six millions, and the deputy marshals four to five millions -making altogether a fine large sum for the people to pay for the pleasure of Reed and his tools. Perhaps if this matter had been called to the attention of the eight democrats, who were swigging rum punches at the congressional bar, and who are responsible for the bill in its present shape, they would have come to the rescue. Perhaps the idea would have struck them that there is many a rum punch in $15,000,000, and this fact might have impressed them as a general proposition. Your genuine congressional rum swigger is nothing if not economical.

Though these eight democrats might have prevented the passage of the bill if they had not been engaged in passing the rum, the republicans are to be held responsible for it before the country, and if it passes the senate, they will discover that it is in the nature of a tool that cuts both ways. It is not only the tremendous cost of the measure and the large army of police, spies and heelers that it organizes, that will interest the people, but the interference of the federal government with the elections of the people. The democrats will see to it that the provisions of the measure, if it becomes a law, are made as effective at the north as at the south. In this way the people of the north will be given a large dose of the republican medicine that was only intended for the southern states.

"Harrison and White Caps."

Under the above heading The Chicago Times calls attention to a condition of affairs in Indiana which is suggestive, to say the

Our contemporary gives the south a breathing spell, as it were, and shows up the "white cap" outrages in Mr. Harrison's dis trict in rather an unfavorable light.

The Times takes advanced ground, and lays the blame of these outrages on President Harrison. Every week we hear of outrages by these "white caps," as they are called, and yet nothing seems to be done to maintain the majesty of the law. Of President Harrison's responsibility the Times

Mr. Harrison resides in Indianapolis, the capita of the commonwealth. He is a public man and undoubtedly reads the newspapers, having a desire to post himself fully as to what is being done in Indiana. If so, he knows of these frequent outrages, and is aware that in all the othe states of the country combined there is less of this work by regulators than in his own. But he has never been known to say a word or in any way signify his displeasure that the state which hor ored him suffers these outrages to continue. He may say, with possible show of truth, that it is none of his business. But such is not the case. He is a citizen of the state, and as such should be interested in its welfare.' If he should urge his republican friend, General Hovey, the governor, to suppress the lawless bands it is probable his request would be fully honored. But this it is not expected he will do, for when Mr. Harrison ac cepts an embezzler like Quay as a leading coun-selor, it is not probable he will worry about "white caps" hundreds of miles away. "White caps" have votes, and must not be tampered with.

This is plain talk, which Mr. Harrison may not relish, but it is, as the Times says, rather a reflection upon him that, claiming Indiana as his stamping ground, he should remain passive under the grave charges which have been made against the state, and should fail to exert his influence to bring about a better order of things in his own home.

There was once a great howl over the depredations of the "ku-khux" in the south; but how is it that the "white caps" continue to flourish and terrorize the state of Indiana, and so little is done to repress them?

We submit that Mr. Harrison might de some excellent missionary work in his own state. Indiana cannot afford to have this bad reputation before the country.

Pecksniff on Poverty.

Sometime ago, an article in these columns concerning Postmaster General Wanamaker excited the indignation of his friends.

The point then made was that we had at tacked the Christianity of Mr. Wanamaker In a courteous explanation we showed just how we stood, and just how Mr. Wanamaker

It would have suited us to let the matter est, but the postmaster general is as hard to down as his model, Mr. Schuyler Colfax. ast Sunday he delivered an address upon the text from St. Luke: "Trust in Our Heavenly Father." He told his hearers not to worry over the future, as the evident intent of God was that the majority of mankind should be poor. He thought it better for us all that this condition of things existed. Never mind now about the charges made that we have attacked Mr. Wanamaker's religion. We will take the broader ground that he is a stupid, brutal rascal. The rich are not God's chosen people, and the poor are not under his ban. The rich of Mr Wanamaker's stripe become wealthy, often by undertakings that many a poor man would scorn. The poor are often no better, but it will do to say that the Almighty desires to see such a condition of things as Mr. Wanamaker

The fact is, that Mr. Wanamaker is simply sneaking Pecksniff, and nothing else.

The Pension Idea. The rush for pensions made by the Grand Army organization and by the various republers and louters who go in for the substantial things in politics has convinced us that the post bellum idea of patriotism is that it is a quality that can be measured in follars and cents.

This is in some respects a new idea, but that it is relished at the north is shown by the tremendous efforts that have been made and are now making to absorb the substance of the people in pension appropriations. We do not remember that the men who fought to make the republic were engaged in any delirious attempt to secure pensions. they were paid at all they were poorly paid, eas the soldiers of the union were well and as comfortably provided for as circum stances would permit.

In all probability they never thought it necessary that they should be paid for fighting for their own liberties—the very idea would have been abhorrent to them. But here we see the representatives of the sol-diers who fought for the union claiming that a large money value is to be set on their services. Naturally, the pension idea grows by what it feeds on. The more money the government extorts from the people in the shape of unjust and unnecessary taxation, the more money the pension mongers want. The latest development of the pension raid on the treasury comes from Congressman Connell, Nebraska, who has introduced a bill which provides for the pensioning of exslaves. The bill proposes that every freedman over twenty years of age shall be entitled to a pension of $12 a month and $500 bounty; over sixty, $12 a month and $300 ounty; over fifty, $8 a month and $100 bounty; under fifty, $4 a month. According to the republican idea, there seems to be no reason why everybody at the north should not receive a pension.

THE country, instead of complaining of a arplus, is now engaged in looking at the hole in which it disappeared.

It is said that the Cape May cottage is very atisfactory to the president and Mr. Quay. EDITOR J. B. McCullough is still talking about democratic defeat in South Carolina. J. B. should turn his attention to the European crisis. There is a larger field for guess work there.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

METEORS are peculiar. When a big one strikes out west it always hits a mortgaged farm and helps the owner to get out of debt.

THE BALTIMORE MANUFACTURERS' RECORD says: "THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION has made a canvass of the state of Georgia with a view of arriving at the true condition of the farmer, the results of which seem to be a complete refutation of the claim that while the south was enjoying marvelous industrial prosperity, its agriculture was languishing. The Constitution's returns, being of necessity only partial, may be subjected to some correction, but as showing the general condition of the farming class in Georgia they are condition of the farming class in probably not far out of the way.

The list includes 1,991 average farmers taken at random and looked up on the tax books aftervards. Each county had twenty-five representatives. Of the entire number it was found that from 1884 to 1889 two-thirds had gained thirty per cent and one-third had lost sixteen per cent. The gain in dollars was $1,290,313, the loss $384,601, leaving a net gain of $905,712. According to the statistics, 1.344 farmers had in 1884 an average of $3,136, and in five years gained $960, while 647 darge farmers, having $3,725 each in 1884, have lost $595. The same ratio applied to 100,000 white farmers of Georgia makes a net gain of $44,000,000, in five years. With an average capital of $3,136, two thirds of the farmers in the list of 1,991 supported their families and added thirty per cent. to their original capital. A gratifying demonstration of the figures is that the gain is mostly among the small farmers, showing that in southern agriculture the man of limited means competes on equal terms, at least, with his richer neighbor. The figures under consideration certainly point strongly to Georgia agriculture as a profitable business which does not suffer by comparison with banking and mer-

a. m. to 1 p. m. —By order of the democratic executive com-mittee of White county, primary elections are to be held in all the districts of the county on the 25th day of July, for governor and congres fifty-second congress and ninth district, and for representative to the legislature.

-Politics are lively in Monroe county. At a meeting of the county alliance on Thursday, Mr. L. A. Ponder was unexpectedly endorsed for the senate from that district over Colonel Tom Cabaniss, who, it was generally thought, would have the unanmous backing of his county in his race for the senate, particularly as he is the most prominently spoken of, of all the candidates for the presidency of the next senate. The result of the alliance meeting, however, leaves the political sit-uation in the county in a very un-settled condition. In endorsing Mr. Ponder for the senate, the alliance also endorsed Messrs. R. L. Berner and G. G. Flint for the house. The eting was a lively one, but it did not adjourn as moniously as it began. A number of memharmoniously as it began. It is understood that other candidates will announce. From all appearances, a red hot ime may be expected in Monroe from now on.

-It is generally conceded that Captain W. E. Wooten, of Albany, will represent Dougherty county in the next legislature, and the announce-ment will be read with pleasure by the many friends of this brilliant young man in all parts of the state. Captain Wooten will probably be the youngest member of the next house, but his successful record since his graduation from the university in 1885, gives ample assurance that he will make an admirable record in the house and that he will prove a worthy representative of his county. There is probably no more popular man of his years in the state, and the interest the announcement of his candi-dacy has created in Albany attests his popularity ne He is now the city attorney of Albany which position he fills with great credit, Captain Wooten has a brilliant future before him and his friends will watch his record with special interest

By adopting this plan we will avoid the first primary usually held, and save the voters going to the polls twice. As Mr. Hardeman has retired from the gubernatorial contest. I further suggest that the 12th would be a good time to appoint and instruct delegates for Colonel W. J. Northen. I am an advocate of primaries, but think, under the circumstances, one will be enough for Thomas county this year.

—Savannah Morning News: John Axtell, a clanter living at Fleming, Liberty county, on the Savannah, Florida and Western railway twentyfour miles from Savannah, was in the city yester-day with a gripsack Tull of samples of what he was positive was pure phosphate. The samples were exactly in appearance like a sample sent him from Florida, and Mr. Axtell was not a whit dis couraged when Mr. W. Let New York Speak at Once! From the New York Sun.

Next Friday is the anniversary of American independence. Next Wednesday is the day arbitrarily set for closing the debates in the house on Mr. Lodge's bill for the regulation of

The people of New York have no time to lose They know John Davenport; they know what federal interference at the polls means; they understand the system which is now proposed to force upon them at the point of the bayonet. The Lodge bill takes away from our citizens the control of New York's elections of New York repre es in congress, and New York's electors. For the free of the people of this empire state, it substitutes the rule of federal officers, irresubstitutes the rule of federal officers, irresponsible, so far as state authority is concerned, and appointed for life. It opens the door of every householder to the domiciliary visits of a federal police. It summons to the polls of New York the drums and muskets of the federal army. It amounts to a revolution in our form of government, wipes out home ruly, and tears away the main safeguard of our free institutions. There is no exaggeration in saying this. In a hundred years of legislation there has been no more direct or dangerous menace to the life of the republic which the patriots founded. It is the shadow of the man on horseback.

Against this measure of centralization, usurpa tion, and invasion the protest of New York should be prompt and vigorous. To have effect on the daring schemers at Washington, it should be reg-lstered within the next forty-eight hours. Let arrangements be made today for a mass meeting tomorrow night, at which citizens of all parties may unite in the performance of the first duty of patriotic citizenship. Republicans and democrats should forget their party names when the priceless rights of free citizenship are threatened. The republicans and democrats of New York have a common interest in preventing the passage of the Lodge bill, for if it is enacted by republican votes and consent now, just so surely will it be turned in the future with terrible force against the party which put it in the book of statutes.

No federal interference with New York's elections! Hands off our ballot boxes! The time is ripe for a new declaration of independence, and this year the people of this town cannot do better than to celebrate the glorions anniversary three days ahead of date, and with a patriotic earnest-ness that will wake the old spirit of 1776.

he would positively be in the field. After a few minutes' talk, however, he intimated in no doubtful way that if he could get the hearty support of his father's old friends and his own friends he might before many days "shy his caster into the ring," He said that a stronger pressure had been brought to bear upon him to run than he could have expected, being so indifferent as he had been about seeking to enter the race.

"The time seems to have arrived," said Colonel Angier, "when the people want a man who can give them appropriations as well as good laws at Washington.

"A man should go to congress," he continued, "with some definite, specific objects in view for the benefit of his immediate constituency. A government by parties is essential in all republics, and a congressman, whether from the north or the south, who is in touch with and a member of the party in power can be of much greater service and benefit to his people than a congressman of the opposite ority party. Right or wrong, the undeniable fact is that under a democratic administration a republican congressman cannot accomplish as much for his district as a represenlative in accord with 'the powers that be;' and vice versa, under a republican administration a democratic congressman is not as potent for good as a republican representative. Well. the republicans have the United States senate for the next eight years anyhow, regardless of the congressional elections this fall or the presidential election in 1892, and with Wyoming and Idaho admitted as states, the republicans have an almost indefinite lease of power. Even if the democrats carry the next and capture the presidency, very improbable events, they cannot secure the passage of any measure without the consent of a republican senate. A republican congressman from the fifth district could be of vastly more advantage to the industrial or material interests of our people than any democrat who might be sent to Washington.'

"Do you think a republican congressman could receive much help from the government for this district in the way of appropria-

"A republican congressman from this district, in the fifty-second congress, I believe, could secure a million and a half dollar appropriation for a United States penitentiary in the fifth district, and the purchase of the grounds, the many laborers it would bring nere and employ at good wages, who must be fed, clothed and housed, and the active stimulus it would give trade, would benefit every farmer in the sale of his produce, every mer chant in the rapid sale of his goods, and real estate owners in the increased demand for houses and higher prices for land. Judge Stewart has tried on this bill and failed; and even if it passes with a republican board to determine its location, a southern republican congressman from Knoxville or Chattanooga would be more influential with his party associates in fixing the place than a democratic congressman from this vicinity."

A NATIONAL PARK. "Furthermore, a republican congressman from the fifth district could obtain a very large appropriation of money to buy and beautify the land for the establishment of a grand national park on the far famed battlefields around Atlanta. Such a project is now in contemplation by the Chickamauga society, to purchase the land on which the battle of Chickamauga was fought, improve and beautify it, and erect monuments to indicate the positions of the commands under Generals Bragg, Longstreet, Rosecrans and Thomas.

"How infinitely more important in historic interest and martial incidents to both sides is it to locate and preserve the lines of the forces that contended for this, the former citadel of the southern confederacy! And I believe, by concert of action, we can prevail on congress to build a grand national park and numerous beautiful drives, and such an immense outlay of money would make times flush' here, put thousands of dollars in circulation, and enhance the value of every foot of ground in this county, and make Atlanta a great resort and national center, where the boys in blue and gray' would hold their regular encampments, and thousands of visitors would come on the anniversary of the bloody battles fought around this historic city."

THE COTTON TAX BILL. "I believe," continued Colonel -Angier, "if all southern congressmen, democrats and re-publicans both, would act-unitedly we could succeed in compelling the refunding of the cotton tax.' It is said this amounts, with Interest, to nearly $90,000,000. Reflect on what a renewal in business the circulation of that enormous sum would have in the south!

"And, laying aside all prejudice, and look-"And, laying aside all prejudice, and look-ing to our interests, ain't it worth while for the people of our district to try a change of con-gressmen, and send a man to Washington who, being in sympathy with the majority party, can obtain the enactment of measures that will advance values in our district? This course is pursued in parts of the north and west, where a democratic constituency will send a republican to congress, or a republican constituency will send a democrat to con-gress according as their business interests may demand. Republican business men voted for democrats like Randall, Flower and Springer year after year because of their skill and suc-cess in securing legislation helpful to their respective localities. That's business. That's the way we do here in the city council, and the same practical methods adopted at Wash-ington, and Atlanta and the surrounding country would feel the stimulating effect through all the arteries of trade. This may sound tery utilitarian, but it is what has made the ings of the appropriation committees and see we get a very liberal share of the public benefits."

"LOOK AT KNOXVILLE."

"Look at Knoxville and Chattanooga," said Mr. Angier, "two typical southern cities, and Mr. Angier, "two typical southern cities, and yet observe the potent influence they wield in national matters, and how easily they get immense amounts of money to widen, deepen or dredge rivers, and to construct magnificent buildings. The business men and laborers of Chattanooga and Knoxville got tired of congressmen who stood stubbornly on exploded theories and retired them as 'back numbers' and sent men to Washington who looked after their material interests. We need a 'hustler' in Washington who will see we get our part, and a big one, too, while Uncle Sam is dispensing his fatherly favors on other sections of the

With such a firmly conceived idea of congressional work, the fact is obvious that Col-nel Angier has given the matter of his candilacy some thought.

It can not be doubted that he will run.

FROM OUR NOTEBOOK. DeKaib County Tax Payers.—Mr. W. G. Allen, receiver of tax returns of DeKalb county, will be today, July 5th, at the office of A. P. Stewart, tax collector, on Pryor street, to receive returns from citizens of DeKalb who are in b

Going to Milwaukee.—Palmetto division No. 1, Kriights Templar, of Charleston, passed through Atlanta yesterday, en route to Madison. The grand annual conclave of the knights takes place in the Wisconsin capital next week, and the southern knights are moving that way just now.

He Is Improving.—Little Charles Hillsman Powell, who has been lingering between life and death at Providence infirmary, was thought to be better yesterday, and it is hoped that he will sur-vive the trying ordeal of his terrible wounds and his long confinement.

The Northen Club.—There was but little interest about the Northen club rooms yesterday. Everything was enjoying the holiday afforded by the Fourth of July and the general quietude of the campaign. No meeting was held and no speeches made.

Distinguished visitors in the city, consisting of Hon.

J. E. Dart, Colonel C. P. Goodyear and Colonel Stewart Johnson. of Brunswick. They were entertained at the Markham yesterday and shown around the city. They are here on business, and will probably remain for several days in the city.

The Tennis Clubs.—The members of the Tennis clubs were out in full array at the courts in Peters park yesterday afternoon, wielding their racquets with unusual interest. The members are practicing every afternoon, and some of them have become as skilled as the best professionals. Refreshments are usually served at the courts, and the afternoons are spent most enjoyably.

Ponce de Leon Springs.—This benutiful place is regaining its old time popularity. Crowds of ladies and children go out there every flay. The beautiful Ponce de Leon lake has added much to the attractiveness of the place. It is always cool and pleasant at Ponce de Leon, no matter how hot and dusty it is in the city. The Atlanta street car line is the only line that goes direct to the springs. The company will charter special cars on any of its lines these beautiful moonlight nights, for parties who want to spend a most delightful hour or two at Ponce de Leon.

Rev. Dr. Henderson.—Rev. Dr. Henderson, president of the Bowdon college, has been visiting in Atlanta during the present week. He is seeking to recruit his physical strength after the exhaustive labors of the late college session. Dr. Henderson has many friends and admirers in the city, and some of our best professional and business men were either partially or wholly educated at the institution over which he presides. From a catalogue which he has kindly placed in our hands, we find that two hundred students were enrolled in the various departments of Bowdon college during the past year. The faculty consists of five professors, well equipped for their collegiate work. The marvelous cheapters of board and tuition is a most striking feature of this worthy and well established institution.

A War Time Duel Recalled.—A famous war time duel is recalled by the candidacy of Captain Asbury for congress in the ninth. It was fought at Vicksburg in 1862.

The story was told by a DeKalb county man here yesterday.

The adjutant, R. A. Qullain, now a judge out west, had formed the regiment, and was ready to turn it over to the sentor captain for drill. Captain Asbury and Captain Woodward, now editor of the Dahlonega Signal, stepped out about the same time. It was an embarrassing position for both. Both were fighters, and both were quick tempered. The lie was passed and They were fighting in front of the regiment and not a man in the line moved.

Nobody expected either of them to come out alive.

It was war to the inite and knife to the hit.

It was war to the knife and knife to the hift.
They fought stubbornly until both men felt exhausted from the loss of blood. They were both terribly wounded, but fortunately no vital point had been touched and both recovered.
They are living now in adjoining counties, the best of friends.

THE WATER FAILED

IN THE ARTESIAN WELL YESTER-

But Superintendent Richards Supplied the Deficiency—A Hole in the Casing—The Work of Repairing Begun.

The artesian well has failed.

Thursday night about eight o'clock the A hurried investigation was made, and the pumps, rods and foot valves were taken up, and all were found in perfect working order, There was then but one solution of the dif-ficulty left, and that was that there was a hole in the casing.

So soon as this was found out, Superinten dent Richards made a hose connection between the waterworks and the main hydrant, and the artesian tank was soon filled, so as to supply the hydrants, sprinklers and other works that had been supplied by the artesian well.

But those who drank the water at the hydrants, soon detected the difference, and the failure of the well became public. THE ARTESIAN WELL was bored five years ago, and at the time it was hoped that an artesian vein would be struck, which would furnish a freely flowing well for the city.

After a long and laborious work, and the expenditure of a large sum of money, the project was abandoned when the boring eached a depth of 2,240 feet. The water rose within ten feet of the sur ace, and the city council decided to utilize the water by putting in a lot of pumping machinery, and by this means making the well ource of supply for the hydrants in the city. So far the supply has been adequate, al-though the use of the water for drinking purposes has been

The Sad Bereavement of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Peters.

One of the saddest deaths that has occurred in a ong time was that of little Edna, the infant laughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Peters, yesterday afternoon. She was a most exceptionally bright baby, the pride of her fond parents, and in their bereavement they have many sympathizers.

The kindergarten, physical culture and art school classes are all in progress.

Teachers are coming in every day, and by the last of the week a large attendance is expected. Thursday evening, Professor W. Harper, of Dalton, delivered an excellent lecture on "The Ways of the Fatherland."

Yesterday evening, Professor M. H. Looney, of Bowersville, lectured upon the subject, "The Ambition that Makes and the Ambition that Destroys." It was scholarly and instructive, and listened to by an appreciative audience.

How Mrs. Collins Was Killed in Gordon County.

There is a great deal of excitement about the murder of Mrs. R. G. Collins, at Plainville, in Gordon county.

There is a dangerous feeling, not only against the negro, but against Mr. Collins, the husband of the murdered your the murdered woman.

Collins, it is said, was fifty or seventy-five yards from the house when the shot was fired.
"That negro has killed my wife," said he. "He did it accidentally. He is a good nigger. He didn't go to do it, but they will hang him if he's caught."

Mrs. Collins died about two hours after she was shot. Her husband telegraphed for a coffin before she died.

It is evident that the negro was assisted by some one to escape, and the killing looks like a carefully planned and premeditated murder.

Collins didn't want any inquest held, and would not pay for telegrams to apprehend the negro.

Was well taken by a Judge in a Georgia city recently. A highly respectable and usually prompt citizen, who had been summoned to serve upon the jury, depended upon a cheap watch, and arrived twenty minutes late. The Judge promptly fined him $50, indicating that in this age of fine watches at reasonable prices, his excuse was not sufficient to relieve him of the fine.

This expense would have been avoided if the citizen had been wearing a Stevens Watch. They lead all others for durability and accuracy, and prices are very low. Call on J. P. Stevens & Bro., Jewelers, 47 Whitehall Street, or write to them for a catalogue.

SALESMAN—Yes, this is the stove you inquired for. As you say, it does not look exactly like the one your mother recommended you to buy, and which she thinks so much of, but it is a Charter Oak Range. We have the Cook Stoves of the same make but the Ranges are used more generally now, as they are more converient. How long has your mother had her stove? Young Married Lady—Oh! ever so long. She bought it when I was a baby, and has been using it ever since, and she told me I must get the same kind.

SALESMAN—Well, this is the same kind. That is, 't is a Charter Oak, but you must remember that twenty years is a long time, and improvements have been made since your mother got hers. This Range has the wonderful Wire Gauze Oren Boor, which yeu have probably heard of, as it! I known and sold everywhere in connection with our Stoves and Ranges.

Young Married Lady—Oh! I remember now. She spoke about that, but I can't understand why that should make it so much better than our old stove, as that was as good as it could be.

SALESMAN—There is no doubt about its being much better; it is a wonderful improvement. It bakes everything so much nieer, and the meats are not dried up like they are in the old tashioned tight ovens. Why, a steak can be broiled in that oven as perfectly as over a charcoal fire, and the natural juices of the meat, which make it so appetizing, will all be retained. It is just the same with roast meats. Of course it is needless for me to speak of its other good qualities, as your mother's advice has made that unnecessary.

Young Married Lady—Well, of course, I will take it. Please have it put up as soon as you can, as we have no stove yet. We are just commencing housekeeping, you know.

INDEPENDENCE DAY.

HOW THE DAY WAS SPENT IN AT-

The Country Darky in the Ascendant With the Watermillion and the Red Lemon-ade in Abundance.

"Fo'th o' July!"

That's what it was. And it passed off marvelously quiet yester-

More people went out of the city than came For the reason that the great confederate veterans' reunion was going on in Chattanooga, and a large number of people ran up there for

The excursion trains from various points came in early, and each and every one of them had its quota of visitors on holiday pleasures

But most of all the country darkey enjoyed the day. He came singly, in platoons and squadrons, rank and file, without regard to age, sex, color or previous condition of servitude.

From the patriarchial plantation sage to the wondering eyed plcanninny, he was here by a large and overwhelming majority.

All along Wall street, near the union pas senger depot, the white roofs of the water-melon and lemonade stands glistened in the July sun, with "Lazy Lawrence" dancing to

"Heah's yo' red lemonade, fi' cents er "Right dis way, ladies and gemmen, fo' yo' nice, red meated watamillin, fi' cents er

"Fish an' braid, only er dime!"

And so forth an so on. George Smith, the wag of the city, who possesses rare powers imitative and ventrilo-quial played on an imaginary tuba,, talked through an invisible telephone, and had a very huge time generally.

At one time he collected a crowd of big eyed country darkies around him, and suddenly a calf began bleating in a sewer hole near by. Dey's a cyaff in dar," remarked one of the darkies, peering into the hole.

"Is dat so, yo' reckin?" Wy, yes, don't yo' heah hiter blatin!"
'Um-un-m," came the chorus from bystanders.

Half a dozen kindly heads were bending over the opening, when—
"Baa—aa—aa—," came from an alley near by.

"Wey dat cyaff?" exclaimed the gray whis kered sage. "'Pear lacke it's in dat corrider." kered sage. "Pear lacke it's in dat corrider."
Then they all turned their attention to the alley, the sable ventriloquist assisting them, and suddenly—
"Ban—aa—aa—," came from the top of a telegraph pole.

"Um-m! Dat ain't no natch'l beast.
Dat's er spirit!"

Dat's er spirit!"

And they all began to look for the calf among the net work of wires overhead, when the sound of a bugle across the street caused a general stampede; and Smith howled with delight as he watched them scamper away in pursuit of the imaginary bugle.

So far as any special display was concerned, the day passed off without event.

There was some little parade among the negro military companies, but that was all.

The postoffice, federal, state and county offices were closed; as well as the banks and many of the large wholesale and retail houses.

The saloons were closed, but the wholesale houses, being allowed to sell by the quart, dished out beer and red liquor in limited quantities.

houses, being allowed to sen by the quartities.

Limited, because the average darky enjoyed the waternillion, lemonade and "fish an' braid" more than the liquor.

The city was very quiet. There were very few cases of drunkenness or disorderly conduct. The crowd was good humored, and when, in the grey gloaming of the evening, the visitors took their departure, cheer upon cheer went up from the different trains bearing their heterogeneous freight homeward.

One country couple, white, came so near getting left that they had to "hoof it" from Broad street bridge to Simpson street crossing. It was neck and neck as they passed The Constitution office, but the woman made a spurt and won a length, and there went up a mighty cheer from the crowded cars that were moving across Forsyth street. This seemed to stimulate the man, and he bent down to his task in beautiful style.

A cloud of dust enveloped the racers as they

A cloud of dust enveloped the racers as they turned the corner, with all the inhabitants of The Constitution business, job room, editorial, reporterial and composing rooms craning their necks to witness the finish. Sad to say they passed into the oblivion of the railroad tracks, and the score of this mo entous race, time, winner, etc., are lost to

AT GRANT PARK.

How the Glorious Fourth Was Enjoyed Out There. The Fourth was probably more enjoyed at Grant park than anywhere else.

Those who went there found not only the at all times pleasant features of the park, but also a very attractive special programme.

Several thousand people, most of them white, took advantage of the coolness and shade, at the same time enjoying the fun on the lake-the aquatic sports-and the other amusements of the

for the day's programme, having devoted considerable time and expense to amuse the visitors to the beautiful park.

The Metropolitan company also contributed liberally to the amusements of the day, giving a magnificent fireworks display at night.

During the morning there were tub races, barrel races and other sports on Lake Abana.

In the afternoon an interesting foot race for half an hour was run by three young men.

A large crowd witnessed all these sports, and at night if was all the dummies could do to haul the crowds that went out to see the fireworks.

The fireworks were discharged from the island in Lake Abana. It was a fine display of pyrotechnics and well paid those who were on hand to see it.

Mother of a Fine Boy.

Three months before my babe was born, I was advised to use "Mother's Friend." I procured a bottle, which relieved me so much that I continued its use. My physician and nurse say mine was the most remarkable case they ever witnessed. At 10 o'clock I was in the parlar playing on the piano feeling perfeetly well, and by 2 o'clock the mother of a fine boy. My recovery was rapid. I used "Mother's Friend" on my breasts, as directed, and had no trouble with them whatever.

YESTERDAY'S RACES.

A GOOD CROWD AND FAIR RACES AT PIEDMONT PARK.

The Free for All Trot Won by Bob Maxwell, With Henry Grady Close Behind—A Comical Mule Race.

The races at Piedmont park drew the crowds

There were a number of lovers of the sport in the grand stand when the races began, and many people drove out late in the afternoon and watched them from their carriages.

The amusement was fairly good. Some of the best horses in the Atlanta stables were on the track, and some of the racing was lively and closely contested.

The races would have been better, perhaps, if a handsome lot of purses could have been made up, but as there was only one purse offered the interest among the horsemen was no more than the cheers of the spectators made it. The first race was a free for all trot, for the best two in three, mile heats.

The race was entered by Bob Max-well, Henry Grady and Gray Pacer. Bob Maxwell won the race Bob Maxwell won the race with 2.51% in the first heat, and 2.58 in the second. Henry Grady was second.

The race was especially interesting in the second heat, when Bob Maxwell and Henry Grady went neck to neck until the last quarter was reached, when Bob Maxwell shot ahead and crossed the shadow of the wire amid a din of shouts from the grand stand.

The second race was the half mile hurdle race, won by Jim Breeze in 59\frac{3}{4}.

There were three hurdles on the track, and the race caused considerable amusement.

The third race, which was the half mile mule race, was especially amusing. The mules that entered were dubbed by the udience "Queen Victoria" and "Prince Bismarck.' They were mounted by two plantation darkies, and with the word "go" from the judge's stand, went flying around the track with speed most wonderful. But it didn't last, and at the end of the second quarter"Prince Bismarck" decided to run out of the ring by way of an outlet more familiar to himself than his rider.

Here the fun came, and "Prince Bismark" delayed several seconds, entertaining the crowds with his antics.

But, after all, he won the race, and the audience went wild with laughter and cheers.

The last race was for the purse. It was a running race, and was interesting from beginning to end. Jim Breeze and Ada Gray were the entries, and the race was won by Ada Gray with 158 by Ada Gray with :55.

All in all the racing was amusing, the crowd in good spirits and the evening pleasantly spent at Piedmont park.

There will be another race in the near future for a handsome purse between two fine speeders.

Intelligent People. Intelligent People.

When an intelligent person makes up his mind to try Smith's Tonic Syrup, made by Dr. John Bull, of Louisville, Ky., he will not be persuaded by his druggist to take some other remedy. He will insist on his druggist getting the medicine he wants, even though he may have to wait a week for it. When a family has once used Smith's Tonic Syrup and experienced its quick effect in curing all symptoms of malaria, chills and fever, summer colds, etc., they never allow themselves to be without it. they never allow themselves to be without it. An intelligent father would as soon be without flour in the house as to be without Smith's Tonic Syrup. The children like it, and its effect is always satisfactory.

Children Enjoy

The pleasant flavor, gentle action and soothing effects of Syrup of Figs, when in need of laxative, and if the farther or mother be costive or bilious the most gratifying results follow its use, so that it is the best family remedy known and every family should have a bottle.

Frying the Fat Jas. A. Anderson & Co.

Out of rich men is the expres sive way the newspapers speak of levying assessments for political purposes. We have fallen on a spell of weather that literally "fries the fat" out of a man if he has any in him. This weather makes a man feel like "pulling off his flesh and sitting down in his bones, but as you can't do that, suppose you do the next best thing-buy a thin coat and vest and try to keep cool.

1224th District, G. M., Fulton County, Ga. A special meeting of the stockholders of the Atlanta Glass company is hereby called to meet at the office of the company, at the factory, on Thursday, July 16th, next, at 10:30 a. m., to hear the report of the business for the past year and to consider a change of the by-laws, so as to hold the annual meetings in July instead of August.

IN RAILROAD CIRCLES. ALL THE LINES BROUGHT IN BIG CROWDS YESTERDAY.

The Teachers Leave-Knights of Pythias Going Through-The Alabama, Geor-gia and Florida.

The railroads handled big crowds yesterday, mostly negro excursionists—not so many, how-ever, as is usual for the 4th of July. The West Point road alone brought in considerably more than 1,000. They ran two special trains, one reaching here at 10:25 and the

The Georgia Pacific brought in a lot of them. Rates of 2c a mile were given all along the other at 10:45.

The Western and Atlantic, the East Ten-essee, the Central and the Atlanta and Florida brought in their quotas and helped swell The Teachers Leave.

Two parties of teachers left Atlanta yester day for the meeting of the National Educational association at St. Paul.

The first, in charge of Major Slaton, left here on the early East Tennessee train yester-day morning. There were about twenty in the party, most of them teachers in the public schools in Atlanta.

The other party left over the Western and Atlantic. There were twenty-seven of them in all, from all parts of the state. Amongst them were Professor W. R. Thigpen and wife, Professor E. B. Smith and wife, Professor W. M. Slaton and sister, Miss Ida Young, Miss Alice Boykin, Miss Ruth Marsh, Miss Sallie McCutcheon, Miss Tigner, Professor H. A. Scomp and wife, Mrs. R. L. Paine, Mr. and Mrs. James Fitzgerald, Mr. J. R. Ingram, Clifford Anderson, Jr. and wife, Mrs. W. R. McCullock and daughter, Miss Byorth, and Mrs. Brown.

Knights of Pythias.

A party of Charleston, S. C., Knights of Pythias passed through Atlanta yesterday, stopping over several hours in the city. They are traveling in a special car. This was beautifully decorated with flags and palmetto. The knights were enjoying their trip immensely. They left over the Western and Atlantic.

and Atlantic.

The following gentlemen made up the party: W. M. Leonard, A. N. Pundt, Jr., B. H. Boquest, C. F. Cernow, A. H. Buck, J. W. Boursan, J. V. Wallace, L. D. Wahlestedt, W. B. Gross, J. H. Wigger, J. W. Bruning, J. E. Burges, C. Adams, C. J. Scherath, S. Rivers, W. H. Thomas, P. J. Hilson, C. E. Milligan, J. Marjenhoff, A. H. Leseman, G. H. Schrage, G. C. Pundt, D. Leseman, Robert L. Lambs, W. H. Warden, John Brennam, H. G. Otgen, and F. Thec. Alabama. Georgia and Florida.

Alabama, Georgia and Florida. The Lumpkin Independent says of the

The Lumpkin Independent says of the progress of this road:

The surveying corps of the Alabama, Georgia and Florida railroad has reached Lumpkin. The road will pass within half a mile of the court house, about the same distance from the business part of town as the depot of the Savannah, Americus and Montgomery railway. It will cross through the Hurley gap, about one and a half miles west of town on the ridge which forms the natural watershed of the Hodchodkee and Hannahatchee creeks. The route as surveyed from Cuthbert to this place follows very closely the old survey of the Bainbridge, Cuthbert and Columbus railroad, and the profile of the road will show a very good practical route. There are no obstacles to encounter around Lumpkin to prevent easy access to the suburbs of the town. It is rumored that from this place the survey will deflect towards the Chattahoochee river, crossing the Hannahatchee creek near Clark's mill, and will strike the river a few miles above Jernigan, and pursue almost a straight and will strike the river a few miles above Jernigan, and pursue almost a straight line from there to Birmingham and Bessemer, taking a middle course between the lines of railway from Columbus to Montgomery, and Columbus to Birmingham; that a branch road will be projected from about Clark's mill on the Hannahatchee creek to Columbus, which will probably be extended southward via Eufaula. Ala. From Cuthbert the road will go to Quincy or Tallahassee, Fla., via Bainbridge, and from thence proceed to deep water on the gulf coast. on the gulf coast.

Albany and Cordele

Albany and Cordele.

Here is another road to be built this year.

It is now officially announced that the arrangements have been completed, the contracts let and the work will be pushed forward as fast as men and money can do it.

Americus firms were bidding for the work and secured all the contracts. Messrs. King & Hanan will do the grading, Messrs. A. R. Coulter & Co., will build the bridges and trestles and Messrs. Kir R. & R. M. Stewart will furnish the crossties. will furnish the crossties

7 The material will be first class in every par-ticular. Thirty-five hundred tons of Pennsyl-vania standard steel rails have been bought vania standard steel rails have been bought from the Pennsylvania Steel company, and will reach here in August. Track laying will begin at Cordele on September 1st, and the road will be in operation October 1st.

Mr. W. W. Campbell, chief engineer, is now in the field locating the line. The territory to be opened by the new route is very fine for agriculture and will, no doubt, pay from the first.
